Before Almighty GOD

Looking around us, we find that there are various degrees of everything, like beauty, health, truth... There are gifted artists and there are less gifted ones. We have to pay a lot more for a Picasso than a picture painted by a second grader, and we know that. There are also various degrees of respect we show. Just think of a beggar, a movie star, or a person in politics. If an ordinary person is disrespected, it is bad. But if the president of a country is disrespected, then it is a grave offense.

Here is the point. We know that God is the best that ever can happen to us. A GOD who humbles Himself to save a lowly, sinful creature, like me and you. Knowing our own faults - and GOD does know them too, we often dare approach our LORD as if He were a pal, or non-existent - rather than the Creator and ruler of the universe. He is far beyond the position of a president or the holiest person on earth.

So, how do we dare approach our LORD now? Should we be proud of what we have and are? Is this not all a gift from our GOD? Catholics have it right somehow - when they sit in the back of the Church. Like the Israelites in the Old Testament, did not dare come close to the mountain where GOD came down to speak to them. But we do have an intercessor for us, Jesus Christ, if only we dare imitate Him and become meek and humble of heart.

SACRED HEART

BLESSINGS PROMISED TO FAMILIES WHERE THE IMAGE OF THE SACRED HEART IS HONORED:

"Our Divine Lord assured me that He takes a singular pleasure in being honored under the figure of His Heart of flesh, the image of which He wishes to be exposed in public in order to touch the unfeeling hearts of men. He promised that He would pour out in abundance into the hearts of all those who would honor His Heart all the gifts with which It is filled, and that everywhere this image is exposed and honored, it would draw down all kinds of blessings."

BLESSINGS PROMISED TO COMMUNITIES:

"He promised that He would pour out the sweet unction of His ardent charity on all those communities in which this divine image would be honored; that He would turn away from them the thunderbolts of the just anger of God, and that He would restore them to His grace, if they should have the misfortune to fall into sin."

BLESSINGS PROMISED TO INDIVIDUALS:

"He promised to pour out into the hearts of all those who honor the image of His Heart all the gifts which It contains. He promised also to imprint His love on the hearts of all those who would wear this image on their persons, and that He would destroy in them all disordered movements."

Sermons by St. John Marie Vianney

YOUR HEART IS BUT A MASS OF PRIDE

You will tell me, perhaps, that you never judge people except by what you see or after you have actually heard or been the witness of some action: "I saw him doing this action, so I am sure. I heard what he said with my own ears. After that, I could not be mistaken."

But I shall reply by telling you to begin by entering into your own heart, which is but a mass of pride wherein everything is dried up. You will find yourself infinitely more guilty than the person whom you are so boldly judging, and you have plenty of room for fear, lest one day you will see him going to Heaven while you are being dragged down to Hell by the demons. "Oh, unfortunate pride," says St. Augustine to us, "you dare to judge your brother on the slightest appearance of evil, and how do you know that he has not repented of his fault and that he is not numbered among God's friends? Take care rather that he does not take the place which your pride is putting you in great danger of losing."

Yes, my dear brethren, all these rash judgments and all these interpretations come only from a person who has a secret pride, who does not know the interior life of his neighbor, something which is known to God alone. If only, my dear children, we were able to arrive at the stage of eradicating this first of the capital sins from our hearts, our neighbor would never do any wrong according to us. We should never amuse ourselves by examining his conduct. We should be content to do nothing else save weep for our own sins and work as hard as we could to correct them.

THE TONGUE OF THE SCANDAL-MONGER

Anyone who is unfortunate enough to come under the tongue of the scandal-monger is like a grain of corn under the grinding stone in a mill: he is torn, crushed, entirely destroyed. People like these will fasten onto you intentions that you never had; they will poison all your actions and your movements. If you have enough piety to wish to fulfil your religious duties, you are only a hypocrite, an angel in the church and a demon in the house. If you do any good or charitable works, they will think that this is just through pride and so that you may gain notice.

If you are not worldly and not interested in worldly affairs, you are said to be odd and singular and to have no spirit. If you look after your own affairs carefully, you are nothing but a miser. Let me go further, my dear brethren, and say that the tongue of the scandal-monger is like the worm which gnaws at the good fruit - that is, the best actions that people do -- and tries to turn all to bad account. The tongue of the scandal-monger is a grub which taints the most beautiful of the flowers and upon them leaves behind it the disgusting trace of its own slime.

MASS INTENTIONS are an excellent way to help the poor souls in Purgatory. But it is not only for them. We can have Masses said for the living as well. Actually, it is of a greater benefit for the living, since they can change for the better, with God's grace.

ALL SAINTS / ALL SOULS Friday Nov 1st is All Saints, a holy day of obligation, with Masses at 8 am and 6 pm. At the evening Mass we remember those who have passed away this past year. We will also have a Mass on All Souls, since it coincides with the first Saturday of the month devotion. This is not a holy day of obligation.
